Want to spark up your Earth Day activities, yet tie them to the Common Core?

Duke Farms, a state leader in environmental education, will conduct a workshop in Hillsborough, New Jersey that will make you look at your school property in new ways. More information to come, but save Saturday, March 22, from 8:30-3:00. After a winter like this, focusing on our outdoors and the animals that inhabit it will be a breath of fresh, warm air.
